

Joint IFP/Dochas Pilot Survey on Capacity Development needs of CSOs linked to Agenda 2030

Action for Sustainable Development CSO gathering during HLPF, New York July 2017

Organisations initiating Pilot Survey

- Dochas- the Irish Association of Non-Governmental Development Organisations.

“A meeting place and a leading voice for organisations that want Ireland to be a world leader in efforts to bring about global justice”.

- The International Forum for National NGO Platforms

“ A member-led global network of 64 national NGO platforms and 6 regional coalitions from all continents, representing over 22,000 NGOs active locally and internationally on development, human rights and environmental issues”.

Context for carrying out the pilot survey

- The early experience of IFP members in monitoring and implementing the agenda suggests that there is an urgent need for the international community to plan for, and fully resource a structured and coordinated approach to the capacity development of civil society globally
- The IFP believes that this capacity development will be essential to fully equip the sector to become a key player in the ongoing monitoring and successful implementation of this ambitious universal agenda.
- The capacity development needs of civil society organisations should be objectively defined by the sector itself, with the focus on the monitoring and implementation requirements of the Agenda 2030.

Aims of pilot survey

- (i) To reach out to development and other CSOs starting to engage in monitoring and implementing Agenda 2030
- (ii) To encourage CSOs to start reflecting on and identifying their capacity development needs linked to Agenda 2030
- (iii) To feed the pilot survey findings into broader civil society discussions about capacity development linked to Agenda 2030 (eg A4SD civil society gathering at HLPF 2017)
- (iv) To begin to formulate recommendations aimed at governments, international institutions and other stakeholders, linked to the Agenda 2030 capacity development needs of civil society

Focus areas of survey

- (i) Organisational capacity to understand the Agenda 2030 for Sustainable Development
- (ii) Organisational capacity for Agenda 2030-related advocacy
- (iii) Organisational capacity for external engagement with state actors & other stakeholders on Agenda 2030
- (iv) Organisational capacity for public awareness-raising of the Agenda 2030 for Sustainable Development
- (v) Organisational capacity for monitoring and reviewing Agenda 2030 implementation
- (vi) Organisational capacity to “Walk the talk” on Agenda 2030
- (vii) Organisational capacity to partner effectively for Agenda 2030 implementation

Global support for CSO capacity development as a means of addressing the shrinking space for civil society

- Many worrying political trends internationally, including the return of nationalist discourse and growing restrictions to fundamental freedoms, that create environments which are increasingly hostile to civil society both domestically and globally.
- The IFP believes that advantage must be taken of the opportunities presented by the implementation of Agenda 2030 to strengthen civil society globally, to enable it to respond collectively to the diverse challenges it faces.
- Properly resourced capacity development for CSOs globally has the potential to be an important element of a badly-needed, overall strengthening of the sector. It is crucial for civil society to make a strong advocacy case for this approach to the UN system, to progressive governments and other influential international actors.
